THE MOSAIC COMPANY® RECEIVES AWARD FOR CORPORATE PHILANTHROPY

Energy and utilities industries solutions provider recognized as one of Washington State's Top 75 Corporate Philanthropists by the Puget Sound Business Journal.

Renton, Wash. (June 1, 2011) – For the third consecutive year, The Mosaic Company®, a nation-wide training and performance improvement solutions provider for the gas, oil and utilities industries, was recognized as one of Washington state's Top 75 Corporate Philanthropists by the Puget Sound Business Journal. The award recognizes companies that strengthen their communities through philanthropy. The Mosaic Company was also ranked 9th in the small business category based on total 2010 monetary charitable contributions on local, national and international levels.

“Philanthropy is ingrained into our culture on both a corporate level and through our individual team members,” said Megan Deans, company CEO. “We are particularly passionate about supporting programs that help to improve the lives of disadvantaged youth by providing them with the resources to improve their quality of life and the opportunities for a brighter future.”

In 2010, The Mosaic Company donated financial support to nonprofits Cry Out, a leadership and empowerment program for underprivileged youth, and World Vision, a Christian relief, development and advocacy organization working with children, families and communities to overcome poverty and injustice.

Mosaic also encourages company employees to support charitable causes and provides up to 40 hours of paid time off through its Community Service Program and matches employee contributions up to $1,000 for a variety of charities.
